BON VOYAGE To DGE Shaju Peter & Ann Lovy

Venue : Hotel President, Sector 26, Chandigarh

Time : 6.30 P.M.

INTERNET SAVVY ROTARIANS

It was an interesting presentation by the panelists: Rtn. Vijay Kumar, Rtn. Atul Grover & Rtn. Munish Jauhar. Rtn. Vijay Kumar is a software & IT consultant with 30 years of experience. He is the Managing Director of Drish Infotech Limited and is also heading the Case Computers.

Rtn. Atul Grover is a dynamic young professional business man, owner/director of KLG Hyundai and a dedicated Internet Savvy. The youngest of the panelist, Rtn. Munish Jauhar is a dashing IT professional who is the CEO of Gray Cell Technologies.

Rtn. Vijay Kumar started the discussion with an impressive power point presentation. He said the World Wide Web is a collection of electronic documents that are linked together like a spider web. These documents are stored on computers, called servers, located around the world. The Web has evolved into a global electronic publishing medium and increasingly, a medium for conducting electronic commerce. The Web consists of your personal computer & web browser software to access the Web. Web pages are stored on web servers located around the globe to host the data. A connection to an Internet Service Provider (ISP) is available. Entering the Uniform Resource Locator (URL) of a web page in your web browser or clicking a link sends a request to the server which hosts the page. The server sends the web page to your computer and your web browser displays it on your screen.

E-mail, in its simplest form, is an electronic message sent from one device to another. It could be text, photograph or sound. To send and receive messages, you access a website, so all you need is internet access and a web browser. To access your e-mail, you log on to the site by entering your account name and password. Now you can read your messages, send replies and even forward messages.

Rtn. Atul Grover spoke about explosive growth of the internet. He said internet is the offspring of a military project called Arpanet. When you're connected to the internet you're sharing a vast network with hundreds of millions of other users. This shared network provides resources that, 15 years ago, were never thought possible. Unfortunately, when something is shared, it is open to abuse. On the internet, this abuse comes from hackers and virus creators. Their sole intent is to cause chaos and/or harm to your computer system and millions of other computer systems all over the world.

How do you combat this? You need an Internet Security System. This might sound complicated but your internet security system will be quite straight-forward, being comprised of just 2 - 3 internet security products. The first and most critical element of your internet security system is anti-virus software. If you don't have up-to-date anti-virus software on your PC, you're asking for trouble. 300 new viruses appear each month and if you're not constantly protecting your system against this threat, your computer will become infected with at least one virus.

Anti-virus software can only protect your computer from viruses trying to infect it via e-mail, CD-Rom, floppy disk, word documents or other types of computer files. Anti-virus software alone will not keep your computer 100% safe. You also need to use firewall software. Data is sent through the ports which are on your computer. Firewall software watches these ports to make sure that only safe communication is happening between your computer and other computers online. If it sees something dangerous happening, it blocks that port to make sure your computer stays safe from the person who is trying to hack into your system.

Rtn. Munish Jauhar cautioned about the pitfalls in IT. He said it is possible for anyone to hack into any websites. One has to use the internet carefully and judiciously. Munish stressed that we have to type in URLs correctly. If one mis-spells it, he may land himself into a fake website which would appear as real as the original one. Such mistakes could be dangerous if you perform online transactions. Even your password can be stolen by the hackers and they could even manipulate your transactions.

DGE Shaju Peter presented the mementos to panelists and while thanking all three of them for the interesting presentation, he acknowledged the great contribution of Rtn. Vijay Kumar towards the computer systems & IT.

NATIONAL IMMUNIZATION DAY

After participating in the Blood Donation camp at Khuda Ali Sher on January 7th, 2007 the Rotarians visited the various Polio booths allotted to our club. It is very alarming that 600 polio cases have been detected in India upto 15th Dec. 2006, out of which 30 cases have been found in our Distt. 3080. The drive against polio is a very humane project and it is the duty of every Rotarian to take part in the global eradication of this dreadful & crippling disease.

Bon Voyage

It is a great honour that in 30 years of our history, Rtn. Shaju Peter would be the first Rotarian from our club to be DG in RY 2007-08. In the forthcoming club meeting on Friday, 12th Jan. 2007 we shall get together to share the joyful moment for Bon Voyage to DGE Shaju & Ann Lovy. The meeting shall be followed by dinner.

The District level Bon Voyage to DGE Shaju & Ann Lovy will be on Sunday, 14th January, 2007, at Hotel Sapphire, Jagadhri at 11.30 am to 1 pm, followed by lunch. Our club has arranged Innova cars for the members and some of us are taking our own cars. To & fro journey is therefore going to be no problem. The Innova cars would be parked at Hotel President, Sector 26, Chandigarh and Hotel Pallavi, Sector 5, Panchkula on Sunday, 14th January, 2007. These vehicles shall leave for Jagadhri sharp at 8.30 am.

DGE Shaju & Ann Lovy shall be proceeding for their training at San Diego, USA on 18th Jan. 2006.

District Conference 2007 : Advance Registration upto 15th Jan. 2007

District Conference 2007 is on 24th & 25th Feb. 2007 at BHEL Convention Hall, Hardwar. Advance Registration has been extended up to 15th Jan. 2007 @ Rs 800/- per Rotarian & Rs 1500/- for Rotarian couple to be eligible for Conference Kit. Please register immediately with Office Secy V.P. Sharma.

Thereafter the Registration would be Rs 900/- per Rotarian & Rs 1650/- for Rotarian couple.
