The Vitality of India

In our regular meeting on March 01, 2019 the Chief Guest Prof Dr Gopal Krishan was welcomed by President Rtn Ashok Puri. The President also gave a brief talk on Om meditation and Pranayam. He demonstrated and advised all present to chant Om for five minutes daily as it gives us self-healing power, relaxes our mind, releases stress, good for heart, digestive system and ensures sound sleep. Om is amazingly beautiful frequency that acts as a cleansing agent for our body, removing negativity and toxicity from our body and mind.

Dr Gopal Krishan said there is good rise of middle class in India. It has emerged as the most powerful vitality differentiating indicator of various parts of India. This is also the integrative ingredient of the whole at present. Drawing upon a rich database, an index of vitality has been created for each of the states.

Each parameter is made to stand the test of its contribution yet is not isolated from the context. The Professor has made great efforts to capture all such realities of India through a search for spatial variations in vitality of India. Prof Dr Gopal Krishan’s book should be of great interest not only to students and scholars of social sciences in general and of geography in particular, but also to the policy makers.

Prof Dr Gopal Krishan was formally introduced by Rtn Prof Dr IS Dua. Dr Gopal Krishan is a Professor Emeritus and a former Professor of Geography in Panjab University, Chandigarh. He was born on July 05, 1940 in Bhalowal, Sargodha, Pakistan. He is Bachelor with honors, Master of Arts and Doctor of Philosophy from Panjab University, Chandigarh. He is also Doctor of Science (honorary) from Pecs University, Hungary. His appointment in Panjab University has been as Instructor, Lecturer, Reader and Professor. He has held many important academic and professional assignments in India and abroad in USA, UK etc. He has also authored many books and completed large number of research projects.

Prof Dr Gopal Krishan explained that nation-state derives identity and sustains progression through its vitality. Conceptualizing, identifying and measuring vitality is therefore of utmost importance. As mentioned in his book, ‘The Vitality of India’, he looks at the vitality of India in time-space perspective. This vitality is found grounded in the strength and salience of its constituents.

Using the country’s sub-national units of states and union territories as the bedrock of analysis, the vitality has been referred to the critical parameters of the quality of governance, economic dynamism, management of multi-culturalism and flow of diaspora, among other things.
