Teacher's Day Celebration – Nation Builders Award

Teacher's day was celebrated in our meeting on 8th September 2023 by presenting Nation Builders Award to outstanding teachers, which forms a major component of the Teacher Support program of Rotary India Literacy Mission (RILM). President Rtn Jeeten Bhambri, welcomed the Chief Guest, the awardee teachers and Rotary members of Chandigarh Midtown.

The Chief Guest was the Deputy Director of Education Department, Haryana, Mrs. Indra Beniwal. She was introduced by First Lady R'Ann Dr. Kadam Bhambri, as a dedicated and dynamic individual who has made a remarkable journey from being an average student to a beacon of inspiration in the field of education. With a career spanning nearly a decade in educational leadership, she has risen through the ranks among different positions to become what she is today. Her journey is a testament to her dedication, compassion and an unwavering commitment to education and community service. She dedicates her time to old age homes, embodying the belief that true happiness lies in serving others.

In her address, Mrs. Beniwal earnestly shared her desire to continue associating with students even after she retires, and provide them with a conducive environment for their holistic growth and development. She reminisced her early days as a principal where she lost sense of time, re-living her own childhood with them. Each child is born with innate abilities to make it big in life, which can be further groomed by parents and teachers, complimented with his / her own will power and hard work. As a testament to this fact, Mrs. Beniwal said she continues to be a student even at her age and has enrolled herself with IGNOU in Post Graduate Diploma in Family Counselling and Therapy.

Today, there are many tools and resources available to students for learning which they must make use of, to fulfill their objectives of life. She also highlighted the virtues of honesty and integrity which a teacher should embody, in order to be a role model for their students. It is a matter of immense satisfaction for teachers when they see their students become good human beings and excel in different walks of life. Calling for maximum participation of students in extra-curricular activities while in school, Mrs. Beniwal said this was important for students to feel involved and confident of themselves, as well as keeping feelings of loneliness at bay, which otherwise leads them to negative distractions, addictions, etc.

Rtn. Anjali Chhabra, who is the Joint Secretary, CBSE, also addressed the gathering. She was introduced by her sister, R'Ann Shivani Kapur. Rtn Anjali did her schooling from Abohar and later completed graduation and post graduation from Panjab University. She also did B.Ed as well as cleared UGC Net. Initially she worked as a Lecturer in Gopichand College and DAV College, Abohar and later at Rayat Bahra Law College. She got selected in CBSE in 2011 and has risen to her current position over the years.

While expressing her praise for the role of a teacher in an individual's life, Rtn. Anjali felt concerned that nowadays fewer people wanted to adopt teaching and education as their careers. Even though these careers carry lot of respect and recognition in the society but at the same time, require strong commitment and dedication over one's lifetime. She felt happy that our a Club had given due recognitions to the Nation Builders who wield a power to influence, power to bring about change and a power to shape the country's future at large. She admitted that compared to earlier times, a lot of information is available and accessible to students by means of the internet but still, the roles of teachers cannot be undermined.

A Training Programme was organized for the teachers before the meeting. The Event Chair, Rtn. Renu Chopra and R'Ann Nandita Sisodia played a pivotal role in managing the awardees – thirty eight in all - with help of principals of both private and government schools. The training programme was conducted by following members of our club, on the topics of educational value assigned to them :

Public Image

PP Rtn Salil Dev Singh Bali
Director Public Image

It is important that Rotary and Rotaract clubs tell their stories in ways that help communities understand what Rotary does and why our work matters so as to inspire others to get involved. Appointing a club public image team can increase your success at making the club's communications consistent and unmistakably Rotary.

As the Director Public Image here are a few things I have observed:

1. Why you should have a specific public image Team?

When a club promotes itself and its work, they are increasing Rotary's awareness in the community. But it is also difficult for those club members who are organizing service projects to be responsible for marketing them too. A public image team can help with all of that. They can manage the club's public relations, press, and marketing in a coordinated and consistent way throughout the entire Rotary year, across projects.

2. What a club public image team does?

The team is responsible for designing flyers and posters, writing press releases, updating the website, managing the club's social media presence, and making sure the club logo is used properly and consistency.

Ideally, the club public image director would manage a team with the appropriate skills to help, all working together to showcase the club and their members as people of action.

3. What qualifications are needed?

The team should have experience in marketing, journalism, copywriting, or digital media. Photo or video creation and editing is also a plus, as is having contacts to local journalists.

Available resources to help you succeed are The Rotary Brand Center contains templates that are extremely helpful.

Public image initiatives are very essential for Rotary Clubs. According to Rotary International the Rotary story of the good that is being done, should be told to both Rotarians and the world at large. Public image building exercise should be taken up seriously by all clubs, zones and districts by highlighting the projects that are taken up to serve the community.

People should be able to feel Rotary's positive and vibrant presence. There has to be proper coordination with the press / media to project Rotary activities. This should also be done by regularly publishing of the club bulletin and create a wide circulation for it through print and social media, Rotary members should wear their lapel pins at all times. The wheel that has been the symbol of Rotary, should be on their name board in the work place and place of residence. The 4-Way Test plaque should on their office table.

Building up Rotary public image will lead to membership growth as more people would feel attracted to join Rotary.

Paul Harris – The Founder of Rotary

Paul Percy Harris was born on April 19, 1868. He played his innings till January 27, 1947 (78 years). He spent 42 years of his life with Rotary (1905-1947). 40 years with his legal profession (1896-1936). He blended Rotary with his legal profession. He was the founder of Rotary. Rotary was his gift to the world.

Paul Harris as a school going boy was mischievous. He was even expelled from the High School. He went to study law at the state university of Iowa. He graduated in law in 1891.

A Lawyer by Profession

After doing law, he set out on a five year mission. To learn life by travelling. Living in different parts. Experiencing different cultures. Imbibing wholesome mindset. Equally, an outlook to deal with different challenges of life. He grew well. He started his legal practice in 1896. He set up his office in a small rented suite in Chicago. In Chicago to get good practice was not a problem because of the social and business conditions prevailing during that time.

How the Rotary idea germinated. It is an interesting story. In 1900, Paul had been in the legal profession for four years. He went with a professional friend to his home. After dinner, they both went out for a stroll. Paul's friend greeted different businessmen in their stores with a friendly feeling. A thought crossed Paul's mind. Why not such greetings and fellowship in Chicago also. He continued to toy with the idea for some time. He was professionally also engaged. He took his time. Finally, Paul invited his three clients who were local businessmen to meet on February 23, 1905. Their names were Silvester, Gustavus and Hiram. They belonged to different professions and businesses. Different faiths. The founding four were of different origins, USA, German, Swedish and Irish. All the four agreed to form a club drawing one member from each business or profession. Acquiring new friends. Building friendship and fellowship. Meeting every week by rotation. This is how Rotary took its birth. Soon, Paul realized that Rotary required greater purpose. Service to community - Serviteto humanity. The rest is history.

Paul had an accidental meeting with Manual Munoz, an old timer at the university level. This meeting proved of historical importance. Munoz joined Rotary. He went on a business trip to San Francisco. He not only marketed his company product but Rotary also. He met Homer Wood, a lawyer by profession. He kindled his curiosity about Rotary. Wood started correspondence with Paul. This led to the formation of world's second Rotary club in 1908 at San Francisco.

Rotary started moving fast. By the year 1910, 16 Rotary clubs had been chartered with a total membership of 1800 Rotarians. Accordingly, a conference of national association of Rotary clubs (NARC) was organized in 1910. Each club was to nominate one delegate for every 50 Rotarians. 29 delegates representing different clubs attended the conference. Paul was elected as President. He was also elected President the next year. At the end of his second term, Paul resigned. He cited demands of his professional practice and personal life as the reasons for doing so. He was elected President Emeritus by the convention action. A title that he held until his death. No other President had this singular honour. The Rotary club started functioning outside US at Winnipeg, Canada. Thereafter, the Rotary moved to different parts of the world.

The year 1910, is significant for another reason. On a Saturday afternoon, Paul was walking with a strikingly attractive Jean. Paul was wearing a fine Harris Tweed jacket.

Paul's journey as a lawyer, the details of which are not easily available. In spite of effort. Still, I am weaving some together. Paul was prominent in his profession. He was a member of the Board of Managers of the Chicago Bar Association at the International Congress of Law at Hague. He was also a committee member of the American Bar Association. He was honoured with Doctor of Laws by the University of Vermont. Also, Doctor honoris causa, College of Law, Lima, Peru. His contribution in the field of Law was duly recognized.

He tore the jacket while climbing a barbed wire fence. Jean mended his jacket. This led to their lifelong association. They were married on July 2, 1910. In 1912, they moved to their own house in Chicago. Jean was not only the life partner. She was also the Rotary partner. She invariably accompanied Paul on all his Rotary meets and visits. The life history of Paul remained intertwined with the story of Rotary.

He was a lawyer among lawyers. His legal professional background helped him in picking up his three clients as the original Rotarians. From 1905 to 1936, the Rotary grew so well. So rapidly. These were the three decades when he was most active professionally also. He had refused the third time as President (1912-13), because he could not cop up both with Rotary and his profession. The profession of law was demanding. It is rare feat that he could blend his legal profession with Rotary.

These were the decades when Rotary from a sapling grew into a tree. In fact Rotary trees emerged in different parts of the globe. Along with Rotary, he also grew professionally. Truly, Rotary and legal and judicial coparcenary are partners in service. Judges find out the truth and do justice. Doing justice is divine service.

A reference to Mahatma Gandhi would be relevant. He was a Barrister. He was admitted as an advocate of the High Court of Bombay in 1891, the year in which Paul did his law. Gandhi practiced for 22 years. He would accept the cases of only those clients where he was convinced that they were speaking the Truth. He would never tutor the client or the witness. His clients were very happy with him. They used to bring such truthful clients to Gandhi. They would take the others to other lawyers. This was in Rotary spirit. I wonder, whether Paul knew about Gandhi. I doubt. About one thing, I am sure. Paul would have loved Gandhi to be embraced as a Rotarian.

Paul was not a sparkling speaker. His wisdom. His vision. They were thought provoking. He was quotable. The breadth of his knowledge was unending. He retired from his law practice in 1936. He wanted to be free and more time for Rotary. He was travelling all over the world. In the name of Rotary. He was a distinguished looking gentleman. Tall. Slender. He breathed Rotary. He nurtured Rotary. Rotary scaled new heights. Yet, he was humble and humane. Paul and Jean strengthened Rotary together. Jean, the wife was equally involved in Rotary. She went with Paul all over. She fully shared the glory of Rotary with him. She did far more for Rotary than is generally realized.

Paul passed away on 27 January 1947. Thank you, Paul for this gift to the world. The Rotary tree was 42 years old when you left us. Today, it is running its 119th year. Adding years only means, it is getting stronger and stronger. Rotary is a perfume. Its fragrance is spreading. It will continue to spread.

I am What I am and What I wanted to be! Gratitude with love to all the Teachers who shaped my journey of life.

On Teacher's day and indeed every day, we pause to recognize and express our deepest gratitude for the immeasurable contributions our parents make in shaping our minds and futures. In times of doubt, you provide reassurance. In times of struggle, you offer a guiding hand. And in times of success, your pride in us as we shines brighter than any accolade.

In the hallowed hallways of learning at school, you don't just teach subjects, but you instill values, spark curiosity, and inspire dreams. With every lesson you plan, every extra hour you give, and every challenge you overcome, you lay the foundation for countless tomorrows.

Teaching is not just a profession - it is a calling. And while the chalk may fade and the blackboard may erase, the wisdom you impart and the impact you have is eternal. Your patience, dedication, and unwavering belief in every student's potential often go beyond the confines of textbooks.

You see the promise in every child, the potential in every learner, and you dedicate your life to nurturing that promise into fulfillment. You are the unsung heroes of society, the beacon of hope for the future, and the custodians of the next generation.

For the lessons both spoken and silent, for the challenges you turn into opportunities, and for the endless love and dedication you pour into your noble profession - thank you. Today, we celebrate you, not just as teachers but as the architects of a brighter, better world.

Life has often been called the greatest teacher, but it is through each of you – the kind souls, caring family, amazing life mate, marvelous children, supportive friends, challenging adversaries and even passing strangers – that life imparts its lessons.

Thank you to those who showed kindness when the world felt cold, teaching us the power of compassion. To the ones who challenged us, making us question, ponder, and grow – your presence taught us resilience and determination. To the friends who stood by us through highs and lows, you taught us loyalty, love, and the essence of true friendship.

Thank you to the strangers who showed unexpected acts of kindness, teaching us that humanity is boundless. And to the adversities that seemed insurmountable, thank you for showing us our own strength and the depth of our spirit. In this vast classroom of existence, every encounter, every challenge, and every moment of serendipity is a lesson. And for these lessons, we are eternally grateful.

For molding us, shaping our perspectives, and allowing us to see the multifaceted nature of existence, thank you.

It's a journey of learning, and each of you has been a teacher in your own right, leaving indelible marks on the pages of our life's story.

With profound gratitude and reverence for the lessons on journey called life-To all the teachers who carved my future.
